

Bretforton Theatre Barns

Alive with possibility

PERSON SPECIFICATION

We are seeking a dynamic individual or team who are passionate about the arts and all that they can offer rural communities.

The role will suit an ambitious, confident and energetic person or team looking for a new challenge.

The Executive Director will demonstrate creativity, vision and leadership and have the commercial acumen to re-launch Bretforton Theatre Barns and create a unique arts centre which is alive with possibility.

The skills, qualifications and experience of the Executive Director will include:

- Experience of working at management level in a theatre or arts centre
- An understanding of the complex and conflicting priorities of running a building
- A commitment to artistic excellence
- Inspiring and inclusive leadership
- Demonstrable experience of strategic management, including the management of financial resources, as well as project and staff management
- The commercial acumen to maintain and build on BTB's financial stability and charitable purposes while fulfilling the long-term strategy, with the ability to identify opportunities for BTB's growth
- A powerful communicator
- People skills that can inspire, motivate and galvanise at every level, including public-sector funders, donors and other stakeholders
